Multi Sensory Understanding

Lesson 2 of 14 on Understanding Language

Emma Jones

Making a Communication Board

Pick out a few key words such as action words, comments or descriptive words, or feelings.

Once you've chosen your words, write, draw or use symbol software to make your board.

Choose how many symbols you want on the page.

Fill them in together.

Start with familiar words

Then add words to do with what you smell, hear, see and feel

Then add more specific words

Then add words to describe colour or attributes

Then add words to describe number or shape

Communication Board

Golden Rules

When using multi sensory strategies try and remember:

Always use spoken language with your multisensory strategy
