

Latin

ut* Clauses 1: Purpose Clauses Downloadable Resource

Mr Furber

Purpose Clauses

Clause	Recognised by	Translated
Purpose	ut + subj	(in order) to / so that

- Explains the aim or purpose of the action in the preceding clause.
- Formed using ut + an imperfect subjunctive verb.
- Negative purpose clause uses ne ('in order not to', 'so that not') + an imperfect subjunctive verb.
- To do with motion, sending, making.

The Imperfect Subjunctive

Tense	Indicative	Subjunctive	English
Imperfect	-ba-	-re-	was/were -ing
e.g.	portabat	portaret	she was carry ing (or for purpose clauses: to carry)

- For certain subordinate clauses, Latin verbs go into a new mood, called the subjunctive.
- For now, translated the same as an indicative (normal) verb.

The Imperfect Subjunctive

English	Latin	e.g.
I	-rem	porta-rem
You (s)	-res	porta-res
He, she, it	-ret	porta-ret
We	-remus	porta-remus
You (pl)	-retis	porta-retis
They	-rent	porta-rent

Main Task

Translate into English.

1. cives ad forum festinaverunt ut novum imperatorem salutarent.
2. rex sedebat ut cibum consumeret vinumque biberet.
3. iuvenis milites misit ut virum quaererent et necarent.
4. vir flumini appropinquavit ut equi aquam biberent.
5. rex legiones paravit ut urbem hostium deleret.
6. rex custodes pro ianua posuit ne aliquis se necare posset.

Don't forget the Challenge!

Challenge

Translate these sentences containing previous grammar or clauses, or more than one purpose clause.

1. nuntius, qui forum intraverat, inter cives stetit ut periculum nuntiaret.
2. statim imperator cum legionibus festinavit ut hostes fugientes caperent.
3. senes iuvenem ad insulam miserunt ut milites inveniret ut eos contra Romanam duceret.

Review

Only turn to this section once you have completed the main task(s).

Main Task: Review

Correct your answers.

1. cives ad forum festinaverunt ut novum imperatorem salutarent. The citizens hurried to the forum (in order) to greet the new emperor.
2. rex sedebat ut cibum consumeret vinumque biberet. The king was sitting (in order) to eat food and drink wine.
3. iuvenis milites misit ut virum quaererent et necarent. The young man sent the soldiers (in order) to search for and kill the man.

Main Task: Review

Correct your answers.

4. vir flumini appropinquavit ut equi aquam biberent. The man approached the river in order that the horses drink water.
5. rex legiones paravit ut urbem hostium deleret. The king prepared the legions (in order) to destroy the city of the enemy.
6. rex custodes pro ianua posuit ne quis se necare posset. The king placed guards in front of the door in order that someone not be able to kill him.

Challenge: Review

Correct your answers.

1. nuntius, qui forum intraverat, inter cives stetit ut periculum nuntiaret. The messenger, who had entered the forum, stood among the citizens (in order) to announce the danger.
2. statim imperator cum legionibus festinavit ut hostes fugientes caperent. Immediately the emperor hurried with the legions so that they take the fleeing enemy.
3. senes iuvenem ad insulam miserunt ut milites inveniret ut eos contra Romam duceret. The old men sent the young man to the island to find soldiers to lead them against Rome.

