

French

Congratulations [1 / 2]

- using venir de + infinitive

Mademoiselle Martin

OAK NATIONAL ACADEMY

Phonétique

[ɕ / c]

français

[ç / c]

français

cinéma

garçon

[au / eau / o]

gauche

[au / eau / o]

beau

photo

aussi

[also]

Vocabulaire

venir de	to have just done
fêter	to celebrate
se pa c ser	to become civil partners offrir un ca d ea u à	to offer a present to anniversaire	birthday/anniversary
féli c itations	congratulations
j'ai re ç u	I received je suis né(e)	I was born une fête	a party/celebration
un ca d ea u	a present

Grammaire

- Using venir de + infinitive

Using venir de + infinitive

Je viens de fêter

= I have just celebrated

Je viens de célébrer

= I have just celebrated

We can use the structure venir de* + infinitive to explain what has just happened in the recent past.

Using venir de + infinitive

Je viens de me pacser

= I have just entered a civil partnership

Je viens de me marier

= I have just got married

Je viens is the first person present tense conjugation of the verb venir

Using venir de + infinitive

We can use the structure venir de* + infinitive to explain what has just happened in the recent past.

venir de + infinitive = to have just + action

Je viens de + infinitive
I have just + action

Don't forget to conjugate the infinitive venir
in the present tense.

Je viens
Il / Elle / On vient

Congratulations [1 /2]

1. Using venir de + infinitive, you can explain...	What has just happened in the recent past
2. To use the recent past, you need to venir according to the	Conjugate venir according to the subject
3. I have just celebrated =	Je viens de fêter/célébrer
4. I have just got married =	Je viens de me marier
5. I have just entered a civil partnership =	Je viens de me pacser

