Why does Jane want to leave Lowood School?

- Jane wants to leave Lowood School because...
- After Miss Temple's departure from the school, Jane gazes out of a window at the 'blue peaks' on the horizon.
- Most of all, Jane longs for 'liberty.'
- Indeed, throughout the novel, Jane has consistently found herself being imprisoned by her circumstances.

Lowood	A 'prison-ground'	Freedom	Bored
Symbol of freedom	Captivity	I desired liberty; for liberty I gasped; for liberty I uttered a prayer...	'Blue peaks'
