How to Make Magic Socks

Hello. My name is Sidney Sock-a-lot and I love socks. I love making big socks and small socks, fluffy socks and smelly socks, stripy socks and bright socks. The very BEST socks to make are magic socks.

When you put them on, they give you any superpower you want. They can make you fly, they can give you superhuman strength and they can make you shapeshift which means you can change into anything you want. Today I am going to tell you how to make them.

You will need:

- The nail of a witch boiled in a cauldron with chillies and limes.
- The ear wax of a mountain troll taken while he is sleeping.
- An empty jar of peanut butter.

What you do:

- 1) First, walk through the forest where the Wicked Witch lives. Stop outside a house with green smoke coming out of the chimney. Sneak in and take a nail from her bedside table. Boil it in the cauldron with chillies and limes. Then, leave as fast as you can.

What you do:

2) Trek up the mountain with a backpack and a spoon. You will know when you reach a mountain troll's cave because it will smell strongly of cheese. Stand outside the cave and sing to it. This will put it to sleep. Then sneak in and use your spoon to scoop out its ear wax. Put it in your backpack and run away.

What you need to do:

3) After that, mix it altogether in an empty peanut butter jar. Stir it without stopping for five minutes.

A last reminder:

The magic socks will suddenly appear on your feet.

They will make you look fantastic and when you wear them you will feel like you can do anything!
