Using 'ir' (singular persons)

Remember that the verb 'ir' (to go) does not follow the rules of other regular verbs.

I go	Voy
------	------------

You go	Vas
--------	------------

S/he goes	Va
-----------	-----------

IR (to go, going): Plural persons

To say 'we go' say 'vamos':

Vamos al cine.

We go to the cinema.

To say 'you go' (plural) say 'vais':

Vais a la costa.

You go to the coast.

To say 'they go' say 'van':

Van al café.

They go to the café.

IR + a + infinitive

To talk about what someone is going to do (future plans), use part of the verb 'ir' + a + infinitive:

Van a visitar Madrid.

They are going to visit Madrid.

Vamos a visitar Francia.

We are going to visit France.

Use 'a' plus an infinitive to make this a sentence about the future.

Para

The word para has two meanings in Spanish.

Voy a ir a Madrid para la fiesta.

=

I am going to go to Madrid for the party.

Voy a ir al café para tomar una copa.

=

I am going to go to the café (in order) to have a drink.

Using 'del' and 'de la'

In Spanish, you can use the word 'de' to mean 'from'

To refer to a singular masculine noun (e.g. el café), change de + el to 'del'.

Una tapa del café.

A snack from the café.

To refer to a singular feminine noun (e.g. la cafetería), use 'de la'.

Una tapa de la cafetería.

A snack from the café.

Summary

1. The verb “ir” means: -to go, going
2. “Vamos a ir” means: “We are going to go”
3. To talk about a future action, use ir + ___ + infinitive -a
4. Translate: “in order to present” “para presentar”.
5. “Van a comer tapas del café” is: “They are going to eat snacks from the café”.
